

Digital Technology and Culture 338

Washington State University, spring 2008

Assignments due for: Feb. 6, 2008

Assignments:

[] Add two graphical (and informative) elements to your blog. That could be a chart, a map, a compelling photograph that illustrates your topic, etc. Put on there something visual that draws the eye by noon Sunday, Feb. 3.

[] Add two informational (and mobilizing) elements to your blog. That could be a poll, a schedule of events, a set of facts, etc. Put on there tidbits of information that break down the gray of the page by noon Sunday, Feb. 3.

[] Contact another of your five sources (from your source list), for a brief interview, and post what you learned about your subject / topic from that discussion in inverted pyramid form. Post it by the end of the day Monday, Feb. 4.

[] Look at what your classmates are doing on their blogs, and make at least 1 significant post about that to the DTC 338 Google forum about what you like (by the end of the day Monday, Feb. 4). A significant post demonstrates thoughtfulness and substance. It also is at least 250 words, with points for further discussion raised.

[] Prepare for the Feb. 6 quiz by completing your readings. Post to the Google forum about those, if you like.

Readings:

- * Talbott's "The Great Information Hunt," pgs 195-211.
- * Rozsak's "Of Ideas and Data," pgs. 87-107.
- * Blundell's "Raw Materials," pgs. 1-22.