

Digital Technology and Culture 338

Washington State University, spring 2008

How to give your formal slideshow / video report

- 1. Check the grading guidelines for the slideshow and make sure you have followed each one, to get the maximum number of points possible.
- 2. Check your project online before class begins. Make sure it is working the way you want it to work and that all you need to do is load your blog page to get started.
- 3. When called upon to report, start by stating your full name and give a brief description of your topic, what ground you have covered with your blog so far this term and what compelled you to create the slideshow on this particular subject.
- 4. Let the slideshow speak for itself. Just play it.
- 5. Leave time for and prepare to answer questions about what you did and why you did it, posed by classmates.