[] Life Map (team project) DUE (100 points)

For specifics about how these points will be earned, please carefully read the separate Life Map guide, located on the class blog under Assignments DUE.

[] Increase who you follow on your classroom Twitter stream to at least 50 people, including at least 40 who are primarily writing about topics under the umbrella of Creative Media and Digital Culture / Language Texts and Technology. (In class on Feb. 2, and part of your participation points)

[] Locate and bring to class an example you have found of a creative and still-relevant use of the print and paper medium. Tweet the title of the example to avoid class-wide redundancies, such as a room full of pop-up books. Look around and see what publishers are doing today. You might be surprised at the ideas being tested to keep print viable.
